

Form CRS - Customer Relationship Summary

ONE Advisory Partners, LLC

ONE Advisory Partners, LLC is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We provide investment management services and financial planning services to clients.

When providing investment management services, we manage accounts internally, generally have discretion to make all investment decisions, and are responsible for ongoing monitoring and reporting. We may however delegate certain responsibilities to outside providers. We do not sell proprietary investment products or limit clients to certain types of investments. Portfolio management services are tailored to your individual needs and you may impose restrictions related to level of discretion granted, the types of investment used, etc., subject to our approval. We generally require a minimum account size of $500,000 but reserve the right to accept or not accept engagements.

When providing financial planning, we provide advice in areas such as educational funding, taxes, retirement, estates, insurance, etc. Services can be provided on a one time project or ongoing basis, and you decide whether to implement our recommendations. Written plans are included in some engagements.

For additional information about the services we provide, please see Item 4 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure at www.oneadvisorypartners.com.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

For investment management engagements we charge an ongoing asset based fee. Asset based fees give an advisor an incentive to increase the assets in a client account since the more you have in an account, the more you will pay. Your fee is deducted from your account quarterly in arrears. Our fees are separate from brokerage charges, custodial fees, mutual fund or ETF expenses, taxes, or other fees charged by outside parties. For smaller engagements, we may also charge a nominal reporting fee.

We may charge for financial planning services depending on the type of engagement. We generally do not pay any fees or expenses assessed by outside parties but may do so at our discretion in limited instances.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information about the fees we charge, please see Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure at www.oneadvisorypartners.com.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

Some firms earn incentives by using proprietary products in client accounts, some firms share revenues with outside managers when directing client business, and some firms trade investments from their own inventory with their clients. We do not engage in these activities. We do however receive some non-monetary benefits from our custodian to whom we direct business and the receipt of these benefits is considered a conflict of interest.

For additional information about our custodial arrangement, please see Items 12 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure at www.oneadvisorypartners.com.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated with salary, revenue sharing for servicing accounts, and bonus compensation for new clients. Our financial professionals may receive compensation for insurance sales or providing supplemental financial planning services, but do not receive economic benefits or other compensation from outside parties for investment sales.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No. Visit www.investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our professionals.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

Where to go for additional information

Please visit our website at www.oneadvisorypartners.com or contact us at 913-825-1722 for a current copy of this summary, for our Form ADV Part 2 Brochure, or for additional information about our firm.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer? Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?